IDH 2930, Un(Common) Reads: Listing Life's Logistics

Section 3132 / Course# 26024 / This is an honor's course: Spring 2025 Wednesdays, 6th period (12:40 pm - 1:40 pm), LIT 117

846-1138 / or via Canvas Inbox (which guarantees attention!)

- Instructor: Mickey S Schafer, PhD / 2215D Turlington Hall / msscha@ufl.edu /
  - Office Hours: Mondays, 4th 5th (10:40 am 12:40 pm) and by appointment

Lists impact our lives to an astonishing degree, in ways which seem obvious (e.g., universal tracking requirements to graduate) to silly (37 essential steps to hack your morning routine!). Lists can be useful, overbearing, even aspirational.

But I never really thought of lists as necessary, let alone contentious. When lists have power, they evolve into checklists, which are both authoritative and dictatorial. They belong to the class of things that are simple, but not easy.

Atul Gawande is a surgeon and a writer. In this book, he tells a hero-story, the story of how a simple strategy fights to transcend hierarchies and save lives. It's a fun read, replete with graphic accounts of medical procedures and other complex situations whose stakeholders must agree to tick off boxes before acting, to sublimate ego to the process. We will do the same.

Required Text and Technologies

The Checklist Manifesto, Atul Gawande, 2011 (Metropolitan Books, MacMillan Trade). Please bring the book to each class beginning Week 2.

- You are welcome to use any format of the book digital or print, new or used, on whichever reading platform you enjoy using.
  - Amazon:
     https://www.amazon.com/Checklist-Manifesto-How-Things-Right/dp/03124300
     00/
- I will be reading the book again in Perusall, using their "book club" option. There is no gradebook associated with the club option. Nor have I used it before. I just thought it might be fun. The cost is the same as the digital: $11.99. You get lifetime access, but it is not downloadable.

 If you'd like to join me there, the URL is: https://app.perusall.com/join/schafer-ntty4 and the enrollment code is: SCHAFER-NTTY4.

Per UF policy, using Canvas is required in this class. IDH 2930 adheres to the UF Student Computing Requirements.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Content: Students will learn the unexpectedly interesting history of the checklist.
- Critical Thinking: Students will analyze the inner workings of the checklist in order to differentiate a "list" from a "checklist".
- Communication: Students will create their own checklists and present them to others.

The checklist may be idiosyncratic (something only you would use) or it may be for broader application. It must not already exist.
  - Checklists will be presented in class with a brief written component as well

Policies and Procedures

Attendance

Class only meets once a week, so attendance is important. Grades will drop by one letter grade for every 3 absences, starting the second week of class.

Only those absences due to university-sponsored events, such as athletics and band, religious holidays, quarantine, illness, or serious family emergencies, will be exempted from this policy. Absences related to university-sponsored events must be discussed with the instructor prior to the date that will be missed. For absences due to quarantine or illness, your instructor may require a signed doctor's note.

Requirements for class attendance, make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this class are consistent with university policies that can be found at https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx

Please note: If students are absent, it is their responsibility to make themselves aware of all due dates. If absent due to a scheduled event, students are still responsible for turning assignments in on time.

Tardiness: If students enter class after roll has been taken, they are late, which disrupts the entire class. Two instances of tardiness count as one absence.

Class Recording Policy

The State of Florida has passed a law regarding the recording of classes by students.

- A Student may record a class lecture for three specified purposes as outlined in House Bill 233/Section 1004.097, Florida Statutes:
  - 1. For the student's own personal educational use;
  - 2. In connection with a complaint to the University where the recording is made
  - 3. As evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding.
- Students may audio or video record a class lecture for a class in which the student is enrolled. Students do not need advance permission, or to provide notice, to record.
- A class lecture is defined as an educational presentation delivered by faculty (instructor of record) or guest lecturer, as part of a University of Florida course, intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject. Lecture is inclusive of faculty-led discussions that are integrated into the educational presentation.
- A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.
- A recording of a class lecture may not be published without the consent of the lecturer.
  - Publish is defined as sharing, transmitting, circulating, distributing, or providing access to a Recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section.
  - A recording, or transcript of the recording, is considered to be published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper or leaflet.
- A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Classroom Demeanor

Please keep in mind that students come from diverse cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds. Some of the texts we will discuss and write may engage controversial topics and opinions. Diversified student backgrounds combined with provocative texts require that you demonstrate respect for ideas that may differ from your own. Disrespectful behavior will result in dismissal, and accordingly absence, from the class.

In-Class Work

Active participation is a crucial part of success in this class. Students will be expected to work in small groups and participate in group discussions, writing workshops, peer reviews, and other in-class activities.

ACADEMIC HONESTY and PLAGIARISM

As a University of Florida student, your performance is governed by the UF Student Honor Code, As a University of Florida student, your performance is governed by the UF Student Honor Code, (https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/student-honor-code.aspx). The Honor Code requires Florida students to neither give nor receive unauthorized aid in completing all assignments. Violations include cheating, plagiarism, bribery, and misrepresentation, all defined in detail at the above site. The University Writing Program takes plagiarism very seriously and treats instances of plagiarism as dishonesty and as a failure to comply with the scholarly requirements of this course. You commit plagiarism when you present the ideas or words of someone else as your own. If you are unsure if what you are doing is considered academic dishonesty, ask your instructor before turning in an assignment.

Plagiarism is a serious violation of the Student Honor Code. The Honor Code prohibits and defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism. A student shall not represent as the student's own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

- 1. Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.
- 2. Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.

Cheating is defined as using or attempting to use "unauthorized materials or resources in any academic activity for academic advantage or benefit". Cheating includes use of "entities" to complete work.

Entity

This includes but is not limited to generative artificial intelligence, large language models, content generation bots, or other non-human intelligence or digital tools.

- 1. Using any materials or resources prepared by another person or Entity without the other person or Entity's express Consent or without proper attribution to the other person or Entity.
- 2. Using any materials or resources, through any medium, which the Faculty has not given express permission to use and that may confer an academic benefit to a Student.
- 5. Collaborating with another person or Entity, through any medium, on any academic activity, when Faculty has expressly prohibited collaboration.
- 6. Commissioning or seeking to commission another person or Entity, with or without compensation, to produce or complete academic work or to impersonate a student in any academic activity.

Instructors may choose if students can use an Entity for class assignments and if so, under what conditions. If you are not sure about the instructor's policy regarding the use of Entities for completing assignments, please ask before submitting an assignment.

Each student's work will be tested for originality against a wide variety of databases by anti-plagiarism sites to which the University subscribes, and negative reports from such sites may constitute proof of plagiarism. Some (but not all!) examples of plagiarism are copying-and-pasting anything from the Internet without proper quotation, citation, or attributive tags, and using work you have previously submitted without permission from the instructor.

If you commit academic dishonesty, the instructor will submit the incident to the Dean of Students Office as an Honor Code violation.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/

NOTIFICATION LETTER FROM THE DEAN OF STUDENTS OFFICE

Students who experience a family or personal emergency (death in the family, unplanned hospitalization, etc.) may contact the Dean of Students Office and request notification letters be sent to their professors. Students are required to provide faculty members with appropriate documentation to support their absence unless, due to the nature of the issue, the information is provided to and verified by the Dean of Students' Office.

The University of Florida complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation.
